

Angie's EHSMU Biography

Miss Sollenberger joined the EHSMU staff in 2016. She is a 2005 graduate of Lampeter-Strasburg High School where she performed in the concert band, pit orchestra, and marching band. She was a member of Tri-M Music Honors society, the flute/piccolo section leader, and also participated in numerous PMEA festivals. In 2010, Miss Sollenberger graduated from Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP) summa cum laude with degrees in Music Performance and Psychology. While at IUP, she performed in the Wind Ensemble (serving as co-principal several semesters), Concert Orchestra, and various chamber ensembles. Miss Sollenberger has also recorded with The Keystone Wind Ensemble and performed with them at the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles Conference (WASBE), held at The University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music, as well as the International Trumpet Guild (ITG) Conference. Her flute quartet was invited to perform at the annual PMEA Conference. Her undergraduate research focused on the field of Music Cognition, culminating her Honors thesis on correlations between an individual's personality traits and their music preferences. Miss Sollenberger is also a three-time finalist at the Music Teachers National Association Young Artists Woodwind Competition. Furthermore, she has performed in masterclasses with world-renowned flutists such as: Katherine Kemler, Amy Porter, David Fedele, Demarre McGill, and Thomas Robertello.

Miss Sollenberger graduated from Millersville University in 2014 with a Master's degree in Clinical Psychology. She currently works in Lancaster as a family therapist and is pursuing her Pennsylvania license in Professional Counseling.

Miss Sollenberger resides in East Petersburg with her two fur babies. In her free time she enjoys traveling, exploring new coffee shops, and reading a good book.
